

Lecturers in Biology

The University of North Carolina at Pembroke announces two full-time, permanent non-tenure track Lecturer position in the Department of Biology beginning August 15, 2008. The successful candidates must have a Masters of Science in Biology. Some experience in teaching general biology lab, general biology, general zoology, general botany, or related subjects is strongly preferred. Primary responsibilities will be to teach any combination of the following courses: general biology lecture, general zoology lecture, general botany lecture, basic human biology lecture, environmental science lecture. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until position is filled. Preference will be given to applicants who apply by 15 April 2008. Apply online using the UNC Pembroke Online Employment System at <https://www.jobs.uncp.edu>. Please attach letter of application, resume, and a brief statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy. Mail three letters of professional reference (do not send supporting tapes, CD's, videos, films, or transcripts unless requested) to:

Dr. Andrew N. Ash
Biology Lecturer Search Committee
Department of Biology
The University of North Carolina at Pembroke
P. O. Box 1510
Pembroke, NC 28372-1510