

Major in Success!

Patrick Combs

Date: 9-17-08

Time: 10:00

The Career Center brings a national, motivational speaker to campus this fall!

Award-winning speaker and comedian Patrick Combs brings his student-focused approach to UNCP on September 17th, 2008. Mr. Combs will speak to the campus community at 10:00 a.m. in the Givens Performing Arts Center. The author of Major In Success, a college advice book, Mr. Combs puts forth a message of inspiration and a “never give up” attitude. His former career paths include video game tester, band manager, and business manager. He took a risk, giving up a stable job in the corporate world to pursue writing, speaking, and most of all motivating students to succeed. He has spoken to students and businesses across America to rave reviews, been asked to guest star on TV, and has been interviewed by Barbara Walters about his success appealing to students’ hopes and dreams. Don’t let your students miss out on this electrifying event at UNCP!
