I will be using the library at Pembroke for the first time this semester due to research projects. Met a couple of the "experts" who will help us with database research and I am looking forward to utilizing their services as well as the library. I have heard wonderful comments about the library from my niece who attended and recently graduated from UNCP.

Enhanced. Would help if more than one entrance was available to use.

Very good place to get your essay done and a lot of support there.

The library was very helpful for a lot of my courses

People who work in the library took the time to help me find the resources that I needed. They told me how to look for books in the library, how to use the computer to reserve a book at the library, and where I need to go to get valuable information, in order to prepare for my research paper.

I received assistance from Library staff while preparing a paper for my African American Literature class. The staff e-mailed me some very useful material that I utilized to write my research paper.

very helpful

Sometimes, there is a guest speaker, in the library, and they get loud. Negative effect on the studying in the quietness of the library.

Good

The libraries resources are really limited. I transferred from another UNC university, and the library had a lot of options for books, films, and other sources I might have needed for a paper or research. Unfortunately, the Mary Livermore library is very limited. I've even had a professor who stated he doesn't use the library for teaching tools (films, books) because it is so limited.

There is no reason why you cannot have speakers at another area of campus. I am unable to study in the library most of the time because there is a speaking series or other events. If you want students to use the library, make it a library, not an entertainment venue.

Good experiences.....sometimes I think that the noise level could be monitored better. My daughter was in there on night and the people near here were so loud that she text me and had me call the library to complain for her.
