The committees will be composed of an Associate Vice Chancellor (Chair) and five to seven faculty members. In some cases there will be an external community member on the committee when necessary. The Provost expected to have the committees finalized the week of November 9. Dr. Locklear also noted that General Counsel Joshua Malcolm will chair the search committee for a Chief Financial Officer. The Provost is also working with the deans to fill three interim department chair positions. The university has engaged consultants to work with the Department of Nursing, Athletics, Mary Livermore Library, the Office for Advancement, Human Resources, and other units. The North Carolina House and Senate approved a one-time $750 bonus for state employees, which will appear in the December salary. Dr. Locklear stressed that Chancellor Cummings is committed to increasing faculty salaries; especially the inequity that exists between faculty rank. Other Committees

Integrated Marketing Committee (Joanna Warner, interim Executive Director, University Communications & Marketing): The Integrated Marketing Committee was placed on hiatus with the change in leadership and will be revisited in the spring. The committee has not met under my leadership, which began at the end of August. I will gladly keep you updated on the relaunch of the committee in the spring; however, I do not have committee reports to share at this time.”

Tuition & Fee Review Committee (Lisa Schaeffer, interim Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs): General Administration began a two-year cycle on the tuition and fee process last year. Last fall, the UNCP Tuition & Fee Review Committee met to establish the 2015-16 and 2016-17 tuition and fees. The committee will meet again in the fall of 2016 to determine tuition and fees for 2017-18 and 2018-19.

University Athletics Committee (Irene Aiken, chair): The University Athletics Committee met Nov. 12 at 1:30 p.m. for the first meeting of the 2015-16 year. Relevant information to the Senate is as follows:

Members: Irene Aiken (chair), Dick Christy (ex officio), Tom Dooling, Susan Edkins, Jeff Frederick (ex officio), Lala Graham, Jenelle Handcox, John Parnell, Jose Rivera (secretary), Reese Rooney, Megan Sanger (ex officio), and Kenny Spayde

Return to Learn was brought up by Dr. Jeff Frederick noting that concussions are a serious issue constantly being reviewed by athletic associations. Dr. Jeff Frederick and Dick Christy reported trends in addressing Athlete Concussion Diagnosis and Management and new guidelines by athletic associations. Students who suffer concussions take tests (accepted best practice by the National Athletic Trainers’ Association) administered by UNCP Athletic Trainers to determine readiness to return to classes, study, resume practice/play and activities such as watching TV. The committee discussed possible ways to educate, disseminate information, and address concussion related issues related to academic attendance policies and risk management issues.

A Leadership Academy has been established with 13 athlete members. Led by Brittany Bennett and Dr. Jeff Frederick, the program objectives include the identification and development of high potential leaders in their sophomore or junior years, as well as the building of a network of peer leaders.

A success manual for student athletes (the “Road Map”), headed by Dr. Jeff Frederick, was developed and distributed to UNCP Athletes this year. The manual received positive feedback. The committee suggested looking into the possibility of distributing the manual to all incoming UNCP freshmen (campus wide).
An examination of possible course clustering (to determine if athletes are taking particular courses in unusual numbers) is required of UNC schools. After a careful and independent review, the Academic Affairs leadership determined that student composition and grade distribution were normal and no course-level inquiries were necessary.

Dick Christy reported that the UNC Intercollegiate Athletics Report reflected that football and women's basketball recruits for last year had higher than average GPA and admission test scores.

Faculty senate minutes recently reflected questions about the need for a Senate subcommittee to provide feedback about athletics. UAC members discussed how the committee could better collaborate with Faculty Senate.

University Oversight Committee (Scott Hicks, member): According to the University Committees website, “The University Oversight Committee reports to the chancellor. It is charged with monitoring and assessing the strategic directions of the institution and providing budgetary advice to the chancellor. The UOC is responsible for assuring the entire campus is focusing its actions on the strategic plan; it does this by monitoring progress on the strategic goals and initiatives and then reporting its findings to the chancellor. Annually, the UOC conducts environmental scans to determine whether the current strategic plan should be revised. It also acts as a budget advisory committee to the chancellor during routine budget development and in exceptional circumstances, such as budget reductions. Finally, the UOC is responsible for monitoring the overall effectiveness of the institution by tracking key performance indicators of institutional health. It reports these findings to the chancellor on an annual basis. This committee is the result of UNC’s General Administration Pol. 400.2.2, which requires universities to monitor fiscal accountability, pursuant to G.S. 116-30.1 through G.S. 116-30.5.”

The membership of the UOC is as follows: Provost Zoe Locklear; interim Vice Chancellor for Finance & Administration Carlton Spellman; interim Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Lisa Schaeffer; dean (TBD); department Chair Kelly Charlton; faculty Lydia Gan, Gretchen Robinson, Mark Thompson, and Cornelia Tirla; Faculty Senate Chair Scott Hicks; Staff Council Chair Nicolette Campos; EHRA non-faculty representative (TBD); and SHRA employee Evelyn Cheek.

On behalf of the UOC, I would like to report first, that during AY 2014-2015, the committee reviewed the University progress in the fulfillment of its strategic initiatives and prepared the report attached to the notice of the Senate agenda, and second, that Provost Locklear and interim Vice Chancellor Spellman will reconvene the committee soon.
