

UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA

PEMBROKE

Lecturer of Teacher Education

The University of North Carolina at Pembroke School of Education seeks to fill an academic position as Lecturer in the School of Education. Position begins August 2019 and requires a full-time teaching load with opportunities to advise students and engage in service activities, leadership and professional development.

Responsibilities include: teaching undergraduate and graduate students, supervision of field experience and student teaching interns, service on School of Education and University committees, leadership opportunities in the School of Education, engaging in professional development and assessment and evaluation of program related to standards.

Strong consideration will be afforded to candidates with a demonstrated record of professional teaching experience at the elementary or secondary and collegiate level, including online teaching with an ability to successfully structure and implement a distance-education based course

Candidates should also provide evidence of supporting pre-service and in-service teachers, commitment to equity and diversity in public schooling, experience in collaboration with K-12 faculty and school partners and expertise in leadership and program development. Strong consideration will be afforded to candidates with a demonstrated record of professional teaching experience at the K-12 and collegiate level, including online teaching with an ability to successfully structure and implement a distance-education based course.

- A minimum of a master's degree in an Education field, Curriculum and Instruction, or Elementary Education from an accredited program with at least 18 hours of graduate work in an education field.
- A current North Carolina Teaching License with a minimum of three years successful teaching experience at the level is required
- Teaching expertise required in educational fields including educational foundations and research, elementary education, and/or classroom instructional methods subjects including but not limited to literacy, language arts, mathematics, science and/or social studies.
- All degrees must come from accredited institutions.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

- Excellent teaching skills and interpersonal skills, combined with strong oral and written communication skills;
- Effective use of technology in teaching and learning;
- Knowledge and expertise in use of North Carolina Professional Teaching Standards and North Carolina Standard Course of Study related to teaching practices; and
- knowledge and expertise in use of TaskStream, Learning Management Systems, edTPA assessments and CAEP accreditation.
- Applicants should be strongly committed to excellence in teaching, and to working and teaching in a diverse cultural environment.

Special Instructions to Applicants

Review of credentials will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Beginning date is August 2019. Applicants should apply online through UNCP's Online Employment System at <http://jobs.uncp.edu/postings/5246>.

This position is subject to the successful completion of an employment background check. An employment background check includes a criminal background check, employment verification, reference checks, license verification (if applicable) and credit history check (if applicable).

In compliance with federal law, all persons hired will be required to verify identity and eligibility to work in the United States and to complete the required employment eligibility verification form upon hire.

New employees are paid only by direct deposit to the financial institution of their choice. Candidates claiming Veterans Preference must attach a copy of their DD-214 as a part of the online application process.

UNC Pembroke is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The University prohibits discrimination against qualified individuals based on their status as protected veterans or individuals with disabilities, and prohibits discrimination against all individuals based on their age, race, color, genetic information, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or national origin. UNC Pembroke is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and seeks priority referrals of protected veterans for our openings.