

It's time.

Take the next step in your education career.

MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION READING EDUCATION

The Master of Arts in Education (M.A.Ed.) in Reading Education is designed for classroom and reading teachers to prepare them as leaders in the field of literacy instruction and as reading specialists.

Meet your students' literacy needs

Earn CEUs for license renewal

Increase earning potential and professional opportunities

910.521.6271
grad@uncp.edu
uncp.edu/grad

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

ADMISSION TO THE PROGRAM

Interested applicants should:

- Complete the online application at gradapply.uncp.edu;
- Submit undergraduate transcripts;
- Pay application fee;
- Submit competitive MAT or GRE scores;
- Have an undergraduate GPA of at least 3.0 in major or 2.5 overall;
- Provide three recommendations; and
- Submit a copy of a current teaching license, if applicable.

We invite you to contact the program director for more information about graduate reading education programs at UNCP. For more information on admission and eligibility requirements, please visit our website.

Visit uncp.edu/grad for more information.

The revised M.A.Ed. in Reading Education is organized around four major standards established by the International Literacy Association for Master's level literacy specialist. These standards reflect NC Department of Public Instruction 2009 guidelines for reading teachers and expectations set forth by NCATE/CAEP. All Reading courses will reflect the four program standards in content, learning opportunities, and requirements.

This publication is available in alternative formats upon request. Please contact the Accessibility Resource Center, D.F. Lowry Building, Room 107, or call 910.521.6695.

WHAT CAN I DO WITH A MASTER'S DEGREE IN READING EDUCATION FROM UNCP?

A Reading Specialist may serve as:

- A literacy education resource for teaching peers;
- A resource for school administrators, parents, and communities;
- A reading Coach;
- A teacher for remedial or developmental reading; and
- A teacher at the community college level.

A Reading Specialist may be responsible for:

- Leadership roles directing literacy programs;
- Diagnosis of reading difficulties with students; and
- Designing and implementing effective literacy strategies to assist students and teachers.

*Now is the time.
UNC Pembroke is the place.*

TOP-RANKED

The Graduate School at The University of North Carolina at Pembroke has been named "biggest bang for your buck" by the Washington Post, among the best value for graduate programs. UNCP is also named "Best for Vets" and designated as a military-friendly university.

VALUE

Our generous financial aid is why U.S. News and World Report ranks UNCP one of the country's most affordable universities. Each year, UNCP's graduate programs are ranked in the Best Value Schools. Scholarships, grants and loans combined with our already low cost of attendance and high-quality educational opportunities make UNCP an incredible value.

LEARN MORE

With more than 40 paths to degree completion and world-class faculty encouraging you every step of the way, The Graduate School at UNCP is where learning is personal, practical and powerful. Define your path, expand your knowledge, challenge yourself, and learn more than you thought possible.

EARN MORE

Among people age 25 years and older in 2016, median weekly earnings increase with educational attainment. People with a graduate degree earn as much as 110% more than individuals without a degree and 40% more than those who hold a bachelor's degree. Earning your degree from The Graduate School at UNCP sets you on a path to personal and financial success.

