Panel Participation in Braves Preview Day

The Office of Undergraduate Admissions host a Braves Preview Day on Friday, November 22, in the James A. Thomas Hall Auditorium at 11 a.m. This event is a smaller version of our open house and is intended to provide a more intimate setting for our prospective students and guests. Dr. Siva Mandjiny and Dr. Marcus Hunt served on the panel to provide a faculty member's prospective of UNCP and the many opportunities we have available. The panel, consisting of current students, faculty, and alumni, aims to provide our guests with an introduction to UNCP and the value of being a student here. Thank you, Dr. Mandjiny and Dr. Hunt, for your willingness to participate in our "Up-Close with UNCP" panel as part of Braves Preview Day.
