One of the reasons I chose UNC Pembroke for my graduate degree in nursing was the small classroom size, being able to interact with others and having that one-on-one collaboration with instructors.

The MSN program provides registered nurses with a baccalaureate degree in nursing the opportunity to build expertise in a specialized area of practice while enhancing their skills in theory and research for use in professional practice. The degree requires a total of 39 semester hours of graduate-level coursework with a blend of classroom and practicum experiences. Coursework is offered in a hybrid format which combines face-to-face classroom methods with computer-mediated activities. Full-time and part-time students must complete all degree requirements within five (5) calendar years of the date of the first registration for graduate study.

Registered nurses with an Associate Degree or Diploma in Nursing are eligible to apply to the MSN program through the RN-MSN Pathway. This option allows students to complete 6 graduate credit hours while completing the BSN in lieu of 2 undergraduate courses, thus accelerating the MSN degree. Students can stop-out, if needed, allowing them the opportunity to graduate with a BSN degree.
